DCI WEEKLY REPORT PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE

Media Relations

There has been heavy media interest in Judge Webster's status as DCI. The basic PAO response has been, as the Judge said after a speech to the Yale Political Union on Wednesday, that "the DCI serves at the pleasure of the President."

Background briefings were arranged for the New York Times on the USSR and for the Christian Science Monitor on chemical warfare. An interview was arranged between former DCI Casey's biographer and former OMS Director Dr. Tharp.
Executive Appearances and Invitations
The DCI addressed 400 members of the Yale Political Union in New Haven, Connecticut on 16 November. The audience, who were 95% undergraduate students, were impressed by the presentation and the question and answer period. According to the students, they were surprised to hear that "the Agency abided by the US law and supported foreign policy objectives." However, the Director successfully conveyed to the students the integrity of the Agency's mission and established a "fine rapport with the students."

presentations at the University of Rhode Island (URI) and Rhode Island College were both well received. The discussions in both cases were lively and focused on the major challenges to intelligence. Phillip Agee attended the session at URI and asked a question about alleged Agency	25X
"atrocities" in El Salvador. response that Agee's information about the Agency was out of date, and that the Congress had reviewed carefully the President's foreign policy initiatives in Central America was greeted with applause and cheers. Agee was on campus to lead a demonstration against the	25X
recruiters on 16 November. On 14 November,briefed the DIA Director-designate, Major General H. E. Soyster on the Agency's reserve program, and DIA's interservice conference for junior officers, a rough equivalent of our Career Trainee program. At the request of its commander, on	25X
17 November briefed the staff of the Air Force Foreign Technology Division in Dayton, Ohio, on the Agency's support to the military.	25X

- 6. The Office of Training and Education's (OTE) Soviet Realities Institute conducted a simulation of a Soviet Politburo discussion on the US election. The simulation gave analysts an opportunity to enrich their understanding of the processes and key players in Soviet decision making, and to explore the practical consequences of a major US event.
- 7. An OTE instructor, working with the Office of Security, has arranged to offer about 25 seminars on computer security issues. The seminars will be for both non-technical and technical computer users, managers, and executives.
